

Global center manifolds and partial hyperbolicity

Sylvain CROVISIER

Abstract

One way to describe the limit behavior of a dissipative dynamical system, is to wonder if its attractor is supported on a low-dimensional invariant submanifold (for instance a center manifold, or an inertial manifold). I will give a geometrical criterion for the existence of a global center manifold.

This is a joint work with Christian Bonatti.